Fred M. Macon

Macon, Fred M.

Rochester: January 1, 2014. He is survived by his wife, Judy Hall; sons, Drew and Lance Macon; step-daughter, Elizabeth Hall (David Baty); grandsons, Carter Macon, Brandon Macon and Spencer Baty; sister, Anita Elcock.

Fred was a lifelong learner, having earned his Bachelors degree from Central State University, Masters degrees from Adelphi University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and his Doctorate from the University of Delaware, in addition to his several personal educational endeavors. Fred worked for more than 30 years as a research chemist and held multiple scientific patents. In his free time Fred enjoyed tennis, global travel, good food and wine, but most of all, his family and friends.

A Celebration of Fred's life will be held Saturday, January 25, 2 PM at the funeral chapel (2305 Monroe Ave.). Contributions in his memory may be made to National Organization for the Professional Advancement of Black Chemists and Chemical Engineers, PO Box 77040, Washington, DC 20013 (www.nobcche.org). Thanks to Adrienne we enjoyed the rare privilege of Fred's company, with Judy's, over lunch in September 2012. What a fine gentleman. I learned that we had both worked for Kodak for decades. I came away puffed up proud that we (Kodak) had such intellect and class on the team. Nadine and I offer our condolences and remain honored to have met and spent time with Fred.

We have such wonderful memories of Fred! We remember his warmth, his generous spirit and his keen perceptions. No matter how much he knew about a subject - and he was brilliant and extremely well read - Fred was always interested in your viewpoint. Rochester has lost a very special citizen and we feel his loss very deeply in Canada!
